DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I in the reply filed on 5/30/2006 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 14-30 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected Group, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 5/30/2006.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The claims and the specification both describe two explosives, one of Class I and one of Class V. One of skill in the art would not know which explosives this language encompasses nor would they know how to practice the invention as described.

Art Unit: 1755

6. Claims 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is indefinite what is meant by Class I and V explosives.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1, 3, and 5-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wallace, II et al (5,468,313).

Wallace, II et al teaches an explosive for use in a shaped charge that comprises a bimodal mixture of HMX. The larger sized HMX particles have a size of 105 micron and the smallest have a size of 1.9 micron (see example 3 and Table 1). The explosives are mixed with a plasticizer, solvent, and binder.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 2 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wallace, II et al (5,468,313) as applied to claims 1, 3, and 5-13 above, and further in view of Renfro et al (6,619,176).

Wallace does not suggest the claimed density.

Renfro et al teaches that explosive material such as HMX are coated or blended with binders and pressed to approximately 90 % of its theoretical maximum density into a shaped charge case.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to press the propellant taught by Wallace to a certain density since Renfro suggests that it is known to press explosives into shaped charge cases to a specific density to achieve a desired result. It is well-settled that optimizing a result effective variable is well within the expected ability of a person of ordinary skill in the subject art.
